More House School

More House School is a vibrant, creative and ambitious Catholic school for girls in the heart of Central London.

We pride ourselves on our progressive and forward-thinking approach to the curriculum, as well as our outstanding programmes in Art, Drama, Music and Sport. Our central London location means our pupils benefit from excellent links with top Central London arts venues, sporting facilities and global brands.

As a small school, our academic philosophy is underpinned by strong teacher-pupil relationships and we provide an inspiring environment for all our students to grow to new heights.

We are a Catholic School who welcomes pupils of all faiths and none and we actively celebrate our diversity. More House School pupils are encouraged to be big thinkers, ethical leaders and active global citizens.

Aims of the School

- Cultivate inspiring and successful young women by fostering Commitment, Integrity and Compassion.
- Promote an ethos of spiritual development, humility and self-awareness, founded on the Catholic Faith but relevant to those who adhere to other faiths and beliefs, or none.
- Engender a culture of intellectual curiosity both inside and outside of the classroom and pride in individual and collective achievement.
- Provide for the social and emotional wellbeing and development of pupils and staff through tolerance, justice and openness in an environment where all are equally valued and where individual rights and dignity are respected.
- Embrace the philosophy of Global Citizenship by developing an awareness and understanding of whole world sensitivities and the importance of living sustainably.

Mission Statement

At More House School, our mission is to cultivate an environment where pupils can excel academically, exhibit kindness in all that they do, develop essential life skills, and embrace their unique strengths and talents.

We are a progressive Catholic School who welcomes pupils of all faiths and none and we actively celebrate our diversity as a community. More House School pupils are encouraged to be big thinkers, ethical leaders and active global citizens.

Through living by Catholic values, our pupils are invited to achieve their God-given potential, by striving to be tolerant and thoughtful members of our community, whilst offering the very best version of themselves to all that they do in School and beyond. They will reflect our core values by acting with commitment, integrity, and compassion.

With Christ at the centre of our caring, inspiring and prayerful community of pupils, staff and parents, we know our pupils as individuals, provide for their specific needs and encourage them to become socially conscious young adults.

We provide a safe and supportive environment that embraces and respects people of all faiths or none. Our reputation for excellent pastoral care finds its roots here. Within this framework, our pupils have the space to explore and develop their ethical, moral, and spiritual values. They come to understand the benefits of tolerance and respect, the significance of human dignity, and the duty of care that all leaders should demonstrate.

They know what they stand for and appreciate the importance of their uniqueness.
